TRUCKEE ITEMS.

TRUCKEE, Aug. 4th, 1878.

ED. JOURNAL:—Thinking that your readers might possibly be interested in a few Truckee notes I take this opportunity of informing them of the doings of your neighboring town. Truckee was never known to be behind the times, therefore like most all other towns on the coast it has been very dull. Within the past few weeks business has revived to a certain extent, and the people are hopeful of much better times in the future. There has been many business changes and many improvements, in fact the town has a much better general appearance now than it ever did since its location. Noticeable among the improvements is the large addition on Moody's hotel, where formerly stood several dilapidated buildings. The hotel is well furnished throughout and is considered one of the best on the line of the C. P. R. R. The Truckee Lumber Co. have made several important additions to their factory of which I will speak hereafter. Front street has many new buildings, and several of the old ones have been reconstructed. Along the whole length of the business street not a single "To Let" can be seen, nor are there many private dwellings vacant, which shows that Truckee is not the worst town on the coast. The Lumber Company have built a large three-story addition to the lower end of their old sash factory which now makes it one of the largest factories of its kind on the Pacific slope. It is a very interesting sight to go through and examine its workings. Almost every conceivable article that can be manufactured out of pine wood is made here, from a soap box up to a bedroom cottage set. On the first floor and basement is where the largest part of the machinery is situated, where doors, sashes, blinds, furniture, boxes, etc., are turned out complete. It is an interesting sight to watch the making of any particular article. First you see the rough lumber; then it is run through from one machine to another until finally it is complete and ready for shipment. On the second floor is situated the carpenter shop, where all the fancy scroll work is made, in fact everything connected with that particular branch of the business. On the same floor is the furniture store room. Here can be seen some magnificent bed room sets, most elaborately painted. The third story contains the paint shop, which is like all other places of that kind. The company's yard is full of lumber, and the mill is constantly turning out more. They employ a large force of men, and Truckee derives great benefit therefrom. Most of the articles manufactured are shipped East. The lumber men still entertain strong hopes of a railroad from Reno to Virginia to compete with the V. & T. R. R. Unless some means can be invented to induce that corporation to reduce their rates so that Truckee and environs can ship their produce and make living profits, the road will certainly be built. The narrow gauge railroad being built by Bragg, Folsom, Burchhalter & Lord at Camp 18 is being pushed forward vigorously. It is superintended by J. E. Marshall, who has 100 men employed. The road bed is almost completed. It is to start from Juniper creek, 4 miles from Camp 18, and run to the company's shute, where the logs will be sent down this shute to the mill at that place. They propose to build a large sash factory there, which will undoubtedly be detrimental to Truckee.

Last week Truckee was again visited by the fire fiend, and three dwelling houses burned. The fire burned very slowly waiting for the fire boys to put it out; but it was of no avail, it had to go out of its own accord. The people think if they had one more fire engine the town would all burn up.

THE FREIGHT QUESTION.—The following dispatch was forwarded East by the President of the Central Pacific Railroad Friday morning:

Sidney Dillon, President Union Pacific Railroad Company, New York: The proposed advance in rates from July 29, as per circular issued by your freight agent, Mr. Vining, we consider unwise. We recognize in you the same right to control rates from that side on freight coming west that you concede to us on freight from here going east, but our idea is that instead of an advance in rates upon the classes of goods mentioned a reduction would be better, and we earnestly recommend that you direct the withdrawal of the circular. We think that some other way may be devised to protect ourselves against impositions practiced by shippers.

WILL FIGHT FOR THEIR LANDS.

WASHINGTON, August 6.—The Pacific Railroad companies affected by the recent land decision of Secretary Schurz have formed a combination and propose active resistance. They have issued a circular informing all parties that any attempt to preempt their lands under the decision of the Interior Department will be resisted and the parties ejected. They also give notice of their purpose to ignore what they term "the so-called decision of the Secretary of the Interior," and declare that they will continue the sale of land as heretofore, at the prices fixed by the respective companies. It is probable that a test case will be made shortly, in order to have the question at issue adjudicated by the courts. Numerous applications are being received at the Interior Department from persons desiring to preempt under Schurz's decision, asking for information as to the character and location of unsold lands. No steps have yet been taken to furnish the information asked, and applicants are simply supplied with copies of the Secretary's decision.

NYE CO. FOR CONNOR.

The Tybo Sun says that pursuant to call the Nye County Republican Central Committee met in Belmont on the 27th, Thomas Warburton Chairman, and Ben. Curler Secretary. Preliminary to electing delegates to the Republican State Convention, was introduced by S. H. Squires instructing the delegates to vote for E. P. Connor for Governor. The resolution so instructing them was passed, and the following named gentlemen were elected delegates: J. W. Franks and W. W. Beauman, of Tybo, J. J. Falkingham and Ben. Curler of Belmont, and Pat. Downie of Downieville. It was decided to hold the County Convention at Belmont on the 10th day of October, 1878. The 26th of September, 1878, was selected as a day for holding primaries to elect delegates to the County Convention.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

The following is a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nevada, passed at the eighth session of the Legislature:

WHEREAS, By the second section of Article I of the Constitution of this State, it is explicitly declared that "the paramount allegiance of every citizen is due to the Federal Government," and that "no power exists in the people of this or any other State of the Federal Union to dissolve their connection therewith, or perform any act tending to impair, subvert, or resist the supreme authority of the Government of the United States;" and, whereas, the Constitution of the United States has been so amended as to confer upon all native born citizens of this Republic, irrespective of color, race, or previous condition of servitude, a condition of full and exact equality; and, whereas, the Constitution of this State, as it now reads, is not in harmony with the amended Constitution of the United States; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly, conjointly with the Senate, that section one of Article II, of the Constitution of this State shall be amended by the elimination therefrom of the word "white," and the effect of such elimination shall be that no male citizen of the United States shall be excluded from the rights of suffrage and office holding by reason of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; provided, that this amendment shall not be construed as conferring the rights of naturalization, suffrage, and office holding upon any native of the Chinese Empire; and, be it further

Resolved, That there shall be added to the present Constitution of this State an Article to be called and known as Article XVIII, and which shall be as follows:

ARTICLE XVIII.—The rights of suffrage and office holding shall not be withheld from any male citizen of the United States, by reason of his color or previous condition of servitude.

Passed February 15, 1877.

Resolved, by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That Article Eleven (11) of the Constitution of the State of Nevada be amended by adding to said Article Eleven (11) section ten (10) thereto, which shall read as follows:

Section Ten. No public funds, of any kind or character whatever, State, county, or municipal, shall be used for sectarian purposes.

MCLELLAN'S POPULARITY.

A gentleman was in Orange, N. J., the other day. He wanted to go to the mountain. There was no coach at hand. A gentleman sat in a carriage. He was an undersized, stocky man, thick hair, almost sorrel. He offered the stranger a seat, which was accepted. The gentleman was civil and pointed out the beauties of the region. He seemed to have the faculty of drawing men out rather than of communicating. "Gen. McClellan lives in this neighborhood, I believe," said the visitor. "He does. He has a small house on the mountains." The drive was extended. The cautious gentleman seemed to have many acquaintances. Nearly every passer on foot or in carriage lifted his hat. Public men were talked of. The stranger was about to ask about the "General," and he now wonders that he did not. The coach pulled up at an elegant mansion, and the gentleman said: "This is Gen. McClellan's house! won't you walk in?" "And this is Gov. McClellan, I presume," said the stranger. "At your service," was the response. Was the election next November that man would vote for George B. McClellan. In that style little Mack does things at home and holds his personal friends with hooks of steel.—New York Correspondent of Boston Journal.

A MOUNTAIN OF TIN.—Tasmania, or Van Dieman's Land, the large island to the south of Australia, is rapidly becoming noted for the quality and extent of its tin supplies. Four years ago the value of tin exports of tin and tin ore was $35,000, while last year they amounted to nearly $1,500,000. One of the most productive regions is the Mount Bischoff district; but this has now been eclipsed by the discovery of a tin mountain at Mount Heemskirk, on the western coast. The "wash dirt" is some twenty feet thick, and produces about 25 per cent. of tin; but the existence of solid seams of the metal, traversing the mountains in veins several feet in depth and width, has been demonstrated. Some "nuggets" weighing several hundred weight each have been found, yielding nearly sixty per cent pure metal. Mixed with the tin, too, is a small quantity of gold, about ten ounces to the ton, not sufficient in itself to render it worth seeking, but adding considerably to the miners' profits.

A MAN was once brought before the late Judge Stevens of Lawrence, charged with a petty offence. The respondent proved that the offence was committed across the ice in the town of Salem, N. H., and pleaded in bar to the jurisdiction of the court. "Exactly," replied the court, "but you had your mind on it in Lawrence, and I fine you $5 and costs."

The unanimous verdict of a jury of twelve men is supposed to embody the absolute truth, but the method adopted for securing such unanimity in the Hunter case, recently tried in New Jersey, tends to arouse the suspicion that absolute truth is not the inevitable and necessary result. For twenty-three days and nights the jury was confined in a small, close and unventilated room adjoining the apartments of the Sheriff. All the exercises they had during this time consisted of the walk from their beds to the window, where they went to press their languishing noses against the bars in quest of pure air, and a daily walk up one flight of stairs and back in attendance on the court. Singular as it may seem ten of the twelve were asleep during most of the time the trial was in progress. But they were unanimous. The great purpose of jury trial was achieved.

THE CALIFORNIA GIANTESS DEAD.—A dispatch from San Jose says: "A few days ago Francis Alice Flintoff, well known throughout this State as 'the California giantess,' died at the Infirmary of paralysis. Deceased is a native of New York, though of German parentage, and at the time of her death was 44 years of age. She stood six feet six inches, and in early days traveled with Lee & Marshall's circus company. She became dissipated, contracted a series of diseases, and for a number of years has been the inmate of some asylum, having been in no less than eighteen of these places throughout the country. She came from Sacramento about a year ago. She was stricken with paralysis three days before she died, and never spoke after the attack."

The steamship Adriatic has just sunk her third vessel, escaping, as her custom is, without injury to herself. When she ran down the ship Harvest Queen in the Irish Channel in December, 1875, the disaster was so sudden and complete that the ship went right to the bottom with all hands, and the steamer did not even know what she had done until long afterward. The newest accident occurred in the same water, and only one of the crew of the sunk schooner was saved. Passengers may take comfort in observing that the fast and powerful steamship carries her own people in perfect safety; but sailing vessels in the Irish Channel will perhaps set extra watch when it is known that she is coming out.
